OUR COLUMBUS LETTER

Last Week Occupied in Getting Into Shape.

BUT LITTLE REAL WORK DONE.

An Attempt Made to Abolish the Emergency Board-Workman School Law and Standard Time to be Attacked. Commercial Fishing in Lake Eric. Chairmen of the Various Committees.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 9. It took both houses all of last week to get its machinery out from the nooks and corners where it has been stored for several months and to get it oiled and burnished up ready for usage. Yesterday was inauguration day, and Governor William McKinley was inducted into office for his second term. The formal canvassing of the vote of last November's election was conducted in the hall of the house of representatives in the presence of both houses last Wednesday, and the result was legally declared that the candidates on the Republican state ticket were elected. The inauguration yesterday was conducted in the senate chamber, and was the quietest that has taken place for years. The depression in all classes of the people of Ohio has impelled those having the function in charge to keep the festivities at a minimum. The First Week's Work of the two houses did not develop much of a startling nature. The usual rush of resolutions to tell congress what to do and what not to do arrived on schedule time. The 2-cent fare bill, woman's suffrage and other time-honored measures did not come to the front in the early rush. They are due during the first penitentiary, Ely; insurance, Rorick; inmonth, however.

Emergency Board Attacked.

The emergency board has been attacked in a bill introduced by Mr. Sleeper of Athens county. He wants the board absolutely abolished. This board creates deficiencies for the various state institutions when the legislature is not in session. The legislature at its next session simply passes an appropriation bill to back up what the emergency board has ordered paid out. Just what would happen if the legislature refused to pass such an appropriation bill is not yet known, for that has never yet happened. Mr. Sleeper says that in the five years next preceding the creation of this board there was $453,483,84 in deficiencies, while in the four years under the operations of this board the deficiencies have amounted to $527,196.86. The question may have some bearing on the biennial session idea. for there are many members who would not be willing to vote for biennial sessions with no chance for an adjustment of state finances when new circumstances and new conditions arise, as they claim are sure to within the 18 months between sessions.

The Workman School Law

is to be attacked again this winter. Bills have been introduced in both the house and the senate to repeal it. It will be remembered that a repeal bill was killed in the house last year before the Workman law went into effect.

Standard Time.

A bill to repeal the standard time law the senate last week. The one in the house was referred by its author to the federal relations committee, which never gets a bill to consider once in five years. Calling Out of Stare Militia.

Senator Earnhart of Columbus will introduce a bill to prevent the calling out of the state militia in the times of strikes until such time as the parties to the strike, both employers and employes, have refused to arbitrate under the Workman state arbitration law passed last year. Mr. Earnhart says that many members of the national guard are workmen themselves, and they hate to be called out to quell disturbances when their fellow workmen are concerned. and the gentleman argues that when the state has provided a way to settle labor differences, as it has by the law referred to, that all concerned ought to take advantage of it before getting into trouble that may necessitate the calling out of the militih.

A Peculiar Bill.

A bill has been introduced to repeal the law prohibiting the appointment as members of boards of trustees any citizen who is a resident of the county in which the institution may be located. This law was first passed because Columbus getting too many members of the boards of trus; es. While thus cutting Columbus on, which may or may not have been a good thing, Cuyahoga, Lucas, Richland, Greene, Erie, Fairfield, Delaware, Montgomery, Stark, Athens and Galia counties were also legislated against, and these several counties thus singled out have about one-fourth of the population of the state. As fast as the time of the local members of their several boards expire outsiders have to be appointed under the law. This is not a good thing as a general rule, as a local member can do far more for the good of

The laws touchfish culture and game are much mixed because of this conflict. Efforts made to straighten out the tangle are never successful because the interest attacked appeals to the interest unattacked to its cause there are two methods used by the fishermen. One set uses what are known WORLD'S FAIR FIRE. as gill nets and the other pound nets. The former are used in deep water and the latter in shallow water. Each interest accuses the other of being responsible for the disappearance of the fish from the lake and each is able to prove that the other method is the wrong one. Thus the clashings arise, and each legislature grasps the subject only to drop it like a hot coal. In addition to this sportsmen of the state are ever asking for changes in the game laws. Some want a close season at one time for one kind of game and at another time for another kind of came and still others want a close season for all kinds of game at various times. Thus these different opinions arise only to befor the unhappy legislator until he arrives in a state of mind in which he can do nothing whatever-and nothing is done.

The game laws ought to be entirely disentangled and separated from the commercial fish laws and separate committees ought to be appointed to consider proposed legislation along these widely separated lines.

Senate Committee Chairmen.

The various committees, into whose hands are committed all the bills in both houses not unimportant enough to be passed under a suspension of the rules, have been agreed upon and announced. The chairmen of the several committees in the senate are as follows; Judiciary, Eckleys-finance, Ohl; municipal corporations, No. 1, Clark; No. 2, McConica; county affairs, Whittlesy; common schools, Wood; railroads, Phillips; roads, Hogg; corporations, Abbott; agriculture, Hughey; elections, Plum; public works, Iden; benevolent institutions, Mosgrove; dustrial schools, Chapman; ditches, Plum; Orphans' home, Hughey; Soldiers' home, Laning; universities, Avery; manufactures, Hutsinpiller; labor, Brown; mines, Hardesty; sanitary laws, Sparks; fees and salaries, Ramp; federal relations. To this committee is not only committed the usual work of getting up the appropriation bills, but the investigation looking to a single session, and if that be decided in the affirmative, then it will have to make appropriations for two years. The bill to raise the Dow tax to $500 has already been referred to this committee.

A MEMBER OF THE HOUSE, According to London newspapers an amateur recently picked up for sixpence a study in red chalk, close examination of which disclosed that it is Raphael's original design for his famous picture, "La Disputa del Sacramento," now in the Vatican. It is valued at about $2,000.

PERISTYLE, CASINO AND MUSIC HALL A MASS OF RUINS.

The Manufactures and Liberal Arts Building Partially Burned-President Highothum Estimates the Loss at About

$100,000-Firemen Injured. CHICAGO, Jan. 9 .- The fire king Monday night laid his hand on the white city. the most beautiful work of man, with the intent of reducing it to ashes. The peristyle, casino and music hall were entirely destroyed, and the mazinfactures and liberal arts building badly damaged in the south end. High winds from the lake scattered the sparks and it was with great difficulty that any of the great white buildings were saved. The fire broke out in the casino, at the south end of the peristyle, and it was consumed almost before the fire department realized that it had a big fire to fight. Northward on the Grecian peristyle the flames crawled, and no check was made until half of it had been consumed. Sparks were being carried everywhere by the wind. Five times the fire broke out in agricultural building, and as many times it was subdued. Was well with the wind with the wind was subdued. Calls were made on the city for addition-al engines. The distance is long, and skipped with all they were slow in arriving.

Wild Excitement. The report of the fire spread quickly through the city, and caused the wildest excitement and regret. Every transportation line leading to Jackson park was crowded with people, attracted by the great glare of red light.

It was thought at 9 o'clock that the flames were under control. This, how-ever, proved to be a mistake. The wind blew more fiercely than ever, and flames were carried along the remaining portion of the peristyle north, devouring that beautiful piece of architecture, music hall. From there they spread to the great manufactures and liberal arts building, in which there was hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of exhibits, awaiting transportation or the whims of custom officials. This building and its contents were partially destroyed, and fortunately, the flames were here checked.

Did Tramps Start It? A number of tramps have been sleeping in the casino since the grounds have been thrown open. They have been driven out a number of times, and it is thought they may have caused the fire. There was no fire about the building and nothing to start a fire without hu-
